Crown Land (Reserves) Act 1978

Crown Land (Reserves) (Metropolitan and Regional Park) Regulations 2023¹

Set Aside(s) for Albert Park Reserve and Albert Reserve^{2,3}

The Crown Land (Reserves) (Metropolitan and Regional Park) Regulations 2023 have been made under Section 13 of the Crown Land (Reserves) Act 1978.

Regulations 18(1), 20(2), 23(1), 25(5), 28(2), 29(1), 30(2), 31(2), 32(7), 33(1), 37(1), 38(1), 39(3), 40(4), 40(5), 41(3), 42(2), 46(2), 47(2), 47(3) provide that Parks Victoria may set aside an area as an area in which an activity or conduct is permitted, required, restricted or prohibited.

Parks Victoria must cause signs or notices to be erected and displayed indicating the areas set aside under these regulations, the activities that are permitted, required, restricted or prohibited and any conditions specified in the determination.

Parks Victoria has delegated this power to the Executive Band in an instrument of delegation, the Parks Victoria Delegations Register, dated 27 June 2023.⁴

Therefore I, Kylie Trott, Executive Director Operations of Parks Victoria, determine under the Crown Land (Reserves) (Metropolitan and Regional Park) Regulations 2023 that the areas indicated in the attached table are set aside for the activities specified or the prohibition or restriction of access, at the times or periods, and in accordance with the conditions, as indicated.⁴

Additional temporary determinations and set asides are put in place from time to time for the following purposes:

- planned burning in the approved Fire Operations Plans and incorporated into the Joint Fuel Management Program for a particular year,
- conservation activities such as animal and plant control programs, revegetation programs or similar,
- infrastructure or facility installation or maintenance,
- fire, flood and storm recovery
- seasonal road closures

These temporary determinations and set asides operate in conjunction with ongoing set asides for general park management and where there is a conflict or perceived conflict the temporary determinations and set asides takes precedence.

Albert Park Visitor Guide

Located only three kilometres from the central business district of Melbourne, Albert Park Reserve is one of Australia's premier recreational parks. The constant motion of walkers, joggers, cyclists, yachts and rowers are all part of the Albert Park scene.

Opening hours

Albert Park is accessible at all times with vehicle, pedestrian and bike access into the park at various locations.

Getting there

Catching the tram is a great way to get to Albert Park. Trams that travel along St Kilda Road all stop within easy walking distance of the park (refer over) and the #12, #96, and #16 trams run past the park from the Melbourne CBD to St Kilda. Limited parking is available for park users in Albert Park. Parking fees apply.

Things to see and do

Walking, jogging and riding

The shared paths in Albert Park are popular with cyclists, joggers and walkers. From shorter walks to connections to significant trail networks of Melbourne.

Lake Path – 4.7km, 45 minutes one way

Walk, jog, or cycle around Albert Park Lake on the park's popular granitic path, taking in spectacular views of the city while passing by the park's wildlife.

Western Bike Path – 3.1km, 25 minutes one way

The Western Bike Path traverses the western edge of Albert Park and links St Kilda with South Melbourne and nearby on-road cycle routes. Part of the trail passes through a dog off lead area.

Picnics and barbecues

Albert Park has nine picnic areas around the picturesque lake, which can be used for picnics, barbecues and functions. Each area has a range of facilities including free electric barbecues, playgrounds, shelters and wide open spaces. Use of these facilities is on a shared basis. All are in close proximity to toilets and parking facilities.

Some activities in Albert Park require a permit (fees may apply). This includes events, commercial filming and photography, major sporting events, various commercial activities and the use of structures, marquees or amusements.

Dogs in the park

There are many places in Albert Park where you can walk your dog. Albert Park is a multi-zone park and dogs are permitted in most of the park, but must be kept on a lead in certain areas, and kept out of dog exclusion areas (including the lake and the playgrounds). You can find these locations on the map overleaf.

Dogs must be kept on a lead at all times on the paths and grassed areas surrounding the lake, in picnic areas and within the dog on lead zone.

There are two off lead zones in Albert Park. When dogs are in the off lead zones, a lead must be carried to bring the dog under immediate control if necessary. Dog owners must ensure that their dogs do not worry, threaten, attack or otherwise interfere with any other person or animal. The areas are off lead only when not being used for sporting activities or events. Owners are responsible for the control of their dogs at all times.

Responsible dog owners carry plastic bags to pick up droppings, which can be deposited in bins located around the park.

Parks Victoria rangers regularly patrol Albert Park to provide information and education on appropriate dog behaviour. Fines may be issued to dog owners who breach the park regulations.

Water sports

Enjoy a day of boating on Albert Park Lake; join a rowing or sailing club or hire a paddle boat.

You can swim, dive or try out the indoor sports facilities and fitness gym at the Melbourne Sports and Aquatic Centre.

Fishing

A variety of native and introduced fish are stocked in Albert Park Lake. A Victorian recreational fishing licence is required and the Victorian Recreational Fishing Guidelines must be followed.

Parks Victoria encourages the 'catch and release' method of fishing to help maintain the water quality within the lake. European Carp (a noxious fish) however must be removed from the lake once caught.

Get Involved

You can join one of the park's volunteer friends groups, the Friends of Redgum Triangle or Save Albert Park, who regularly conduct tree planting, weeding, and other environmental and maintenance activities which enhance the park's ecological values.

Facilities

Albert Park offers an array of picnic areas, playgrounds, dining and sporting facilities, providing for a large diversity of recreational opportunities.

- Join one of the many amateur sporting clubs that use the park's 21 sports fields, or just come along as a spectator.
- Play a round of golf on the Albert Park 18 hole public Golf Course or try out the Golf Driving Range.
- Choose from a wide selection of kiosks, cafés, restaurants, and function centres.
- Check out the viewing tower, situated behind The Point. It offers spectacular views of the park and the city.

Events

Albert Park plays host to many national, state-wide and community based recreational, cultural and sporting events.

For further information about hosting an event at Albert Park, please contact Parks Victoria's Statewide Events Branch on events@parks.vic.gov.au or phone 13 1963.

Plants and animals

Albert Park is home to over 5,000 native and introduced trees and grasses. These provide homes for wildlife and beautiful scenery and shade for park users. The large River Red Gum (Eucalyptus camaldulensis) situated near the Junction Oval is at least 400 years old.

Within Albert Park Lake, two stormwater treatment ponds control, trap and filter the urban runoff used to fill the lake. The ponds and the lake's other three islands provide habitat for the local bird population, as well as a breeding site for water birds.

Albert Park is a migratory home to significant birds including the Great Egret, the White-throated Needletail and the Sacred Ibis. Black Swans, Pacific Black Ducks, Pelicans, Coots and Cormorants can often be seen feeding on the aquatic vegetation within the lake.

Back on land, Kookaburras, Cockatoos, Rosellas and Magpies can be heard in the trees. If you come by at night you may be lucky enough to see a Ringtail or Brushtail Possum venturing from their trees to find food.

Caring for Albert Park

Help us look after your parks by following these guidelines:
