

Tips for camping in nature

Information in Easy English, Mandarin (Simplified Chinese) 简体中文, Hindi हन्दी, Khmer ខ្មែរ, Karen ကဉ်ကူ, Arabic العربية, and Farsi ىسراف

A photograph of a sunset over a coastal landscape. The sun is low on the horizon, casting a golden glow across the sky and reflecting on the water. A large, dark island is visible in the distance. In the foreground, there are dark silhouettes of trees and rocks. The image is framed by a decorative Aboriginal pattern at the top and bottom.

This park is part of an Aboriginal cultural landscape.
Parks Victoria respects the deep and continuing connection that Traditional Owners have to these lands and waters,
and we recognise their ongoing role in caring for Country.

1

Put out your campfire completely with water

Why? 10% of bushfires are caused by campfires

- Only light campfires in fireplaces provided by Parks Victoria.
- At least one person must stay by the campfire at all times.
- Use water to put out your campfire, not soil. If the ashes are cold, then it is safe to leave.
- Total Fire Ban = NO fires.
